S. A. 'BISH' CLARK ANNOUNCES FOR COUNTY SUPT. OF EDUCATION

University Training and Seven Years in Administrative Capacity in High School Training Exceptionally Fits Him For All Important Position.

Prof. S. A. Clark popularly known as "Bish" Clark, principal Bay St. Louis high school, is formally announced in this issue of The Sea Coast Echo a candidate for the office of superintendent of Education, Hancock county, for which he eminently qualified by reason of education and experience in actual administrative and academic qualifications.

Solicited to enter the race, he decided after due deliberation, and, if elected, he pledges all of his time and best efforts to give a business administration.

Mr. Clark, in announcing his intention to be a candidate, has given the following statement, which is self-explanatory and well covers the subject in brief. It will be read by the voters of the county who are asked to give his candidacy full and due consideration. His statement follows:

"In soliciting your vote and influence in behalf of my candidacy I should like to ask you to consider particularly that my academic training consists of: the B. S. degree, State Teachers College, 1932. Also work toward the M. A. degree, University of Alabama and Louisiana State University; and my educational experience consisting of seven years in administrative capacity as high school principal.

"This preparation and experience has enabled me to be in direct contact with the problems of school administration, such as making of school budgets, annual reports and mapping out school programs.

"In soliciting your support for this office I assure you that your problems shall be my problems, and I shall devote all of my time and best effort to give you a business administration as County Superintendent."

The tea table was covered by a lace cloth and lemon-colored glassware surrounded the handsome candleabra which formed the centerpiece.

Mrs. L. C. Horton and Mrs. John Weston served ice cold punch from crystal punch bowls at either end of the table and Mrs. Carl Marshall cut the large birthday cakes, candies, and nuts all given by the library board were served.

The entrance prize a copy of "Wicket Point" by Marquand was won by Miss Clara Kergosien. Announcement of the June book review will be, made shortly.

FANCY HORSE FLESH ON BAY ST. LOUIS LITTLE FAIR GROUNDS SUNDAY

"Black Star," Grandson of Famous Dan Patch Covers Track—Bidwell Adam's Carrier Pigeons Make Flight To Pass Christian—List of Entries and Winners.

Weather conditions on Sunday were ideal for Little Fair Grounds to provide enjoyment to the throngs of visitors from the coast, upper county, New Orleans, and all participating were well satisfied with the events.

Some beautiful horses were presented outstanding among them being "Black Star" grandson of the famous pacer "Dan Patch" who held the world's record. This cold blood beauty, now owned by Bob Moran was admired by all as it paced around the track driven by Dick Cue and again by Charlie Breath in a racing sulky. This horse will soon have a chance to show its mettle in competition with several horses from New Orleans, a slight well worth seeing of this sport of kings.

Mr. Henry Heaton from New Orleans brought over three beautiful running horses which took part in the events. Mr. Viator of Biloxi, owner of the Black and White chain of groceries, who raced "Liberty"—a fine performer and Mr. Willis Rhodes owner of "Double Tricks"—winner of the sixth race, who showed good form. Hon. Bidwell Adam of Pass Christian staged a homer pigeon race from the judges stand to the loft in Pass Christian in six minutes. Another event will be held next Sunday when little Jack Adams will race his pigeon Thunderstorm against his dad's pigeon Cannon Ball.

Mule race created quite a bit of excitement, especially owing to the uncertainty of the result. The Shetland ponies belonging to Gaynell and Hartwell Gex, children of Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Gex were, as usual, an interesting part of the evening's performances. Moving pictures were taken of the races of the horses on parade and of the crowds.

Work is now under way for the needed improvements to add to the comfort of the spectators. Material is on the grounds and soon Bay St. Louis will boast of an added attraction to citizens and visitors.

Double Tricks and Liberty are now the outstanding performers and await competition.

Sunday's results: Tarzan, Gaynell Gex, vs. Brownie, Hartwell Gex, won by Brownie. Freckles owned by Henry Heaton of New Orleans, Ladner jockey, vs. Little Bill, D. Mollere owner, Henley jockey, won by Freckles.

Billie, Norman Benigno owner, Primo Fayard, jockey vs. Daisy, W. N. Ladner, owner, R. T. Ladner, jockey, 1st race a dead heat. Second race won by Billie.

LOGTOWN TO BE SCENE OF ALL-DAY CLUB MEET SATURDAY

Beginning at 10 O'clock 4-H Club Girls Will Meet with Home Demonstration Agent.

Miss Louise Peters, home demonstration agent will hold an all day meeting at Logtown school on Saturday, May 20th, beginning at 10:00 A. M., for the Logtown 4-H Club girls. At this meeting the girls will practice for the program they are going to give at the home demonstration club meeting on May 23rd. They will also play games, have lunch, and have just a general good time. The mothers of the 4-H Club girls are also invited to attend this meeting on Saturday.

Listed below are some gardening hints for May.

May head lettuce quality will be improved if you will place a rubber band around the loose head to hold the leaves closely together. This prevents the leaves from separating from each other when the plant tends to wilt on warm days. The head will be more firm, crisp, and bleached.

Snap beans when harvested in the "rat-tail" stage are more palatable more healthful and will produce more beans by weight than when the beans are allowed to attain full size.

An ounce (small handful) of nitrate of soda applied as a side dressing to each tomato plant as it is setting its first cluster of fruit will improve both quality of tomatoes produced. If there is a white margin on the leaves of vigorously growing young plants means there is not enough potash in the soil. If there is a purple under color on the leaves of young tomato plants, this indicates lack of available phosphorus. The more intense the purple color, the slower the plant growth, the greater the need for superphosphate.

LAKESHORE RESIDENT DIES AT 70

William H. Krankey Passes On at Orleans—Funeral From Fahey Funeral Home.

William Henry Krankey, aged 70 years, one of the best known residents of Beat 5, residing for many years at Lakeshore, died early Monday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Agnes Moran, 623 North Hennessy street, New Orleans, with whom he has resided for the past six years since retiring from the lumber and piling business in which he had been for many years at Lakeshore and doing business along the Gulf Coast.

The deceased had been ill for a long time, suffering from a heart ailment and complications and retired because of ill health and made his home with his daughter. He is survived by his wife, the former Barbara Zingaring, of Hancock county, and three daughters, namely, Mrs. Moran, Mrs. Mary Defau and Mrs. Georgie Chevis and one son Albert Krankey. A son, William H. Krankey, died in Europe during the World War, his body returned to this county after cessation of hostilities and interred in the family burial ground here.

Fahey Funeral Home, where the body was laid out, and wake held Monday night, had charge of arrangements transferring it from New Orleans by hearse.

Funeral took place Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock with the Rev. Leo F. Fahey officiating. Interment was at Lakeshore, where Mr. Krankey was born. A large number of friends and acquaintances attended the final ceremonies, an evidence of the wide esteem in which the deceased was held. Mr. Krankey was known for his fine citizenship and as a man who was known for his sterling qualities. He had friends wherever he was known.

RETURNS FROM CHICAGO.

Norton Haas, local turpentine still operator, returned home during the early part of the week from a business trip to Chicago where he spent several days combining business with pleasure. While at the headquarters city he visited the executive officers of International Rotary where he was guest as a past president.

Moving to Bay St. Louis as above stated, he purchased a home in the outskirts of Bay St. Louis and at once became a resident of Hancock county. He and his wife have resided there ever since. They have three children, two sons, John M. Bopp, a graduate of Tulane University and Herman Bopp at present attending Mississippi State College, both graduates of St. Stanislaus College; a daughter, Rita, attending St. Joseph's Academy of Bay St. Louis.

Personally speaking of Mr. Bopp it is not amiss here to say that he has held various offices of trust and honor, always in recognition for his service and ability to further serve. Just now he is vice president of the Tennessee-Mississippi Peace Officers' Association. It is a commendable ambition, indeed, when a man wishes through qualification and ability to promote his position and particularly when it is to serve the public. Having served well he now asks the voters, if they will, to continue him in the office where he has served so well under the present and in co-operation with the sheriff.

As is well known, in Mississippi a sheriff cannot succeed himself. It is for this reason Sheriff Claude Monti is not a candidate. Hence Mr. Bopp, with his qualifications and experience asks to be allowed to step in and continue the good work.

The Echo presents the candidacy of Mr. Bopp to the public in publishing this definite and formal announcement and asks for him any and all consideration they may deem him worthy of. Their favor will be appreciated and in return he offers to give them the very best of which he is able to render.

EARN WHAT YOU WANT.

YOUNG people of Hancock county might find the present a good occasion to understand that the majority of those who have anything in a world that worships money worked for what they acquired.

Too often, the youthful mind is impressed with the easy accumulation of a fortune by some exceptional figure that looms in the sub-consciousness, little realizing that such a career is the great exception among a mass of hard workers who got to the top by sheer diligence and persistence rather than through some streak of luck or opportunity.

More and more there is abroad in the world a conviction that individuals who do not earn what they have are not entitled to their possessions. The thought is no so bad. If every youngster who begins a business life in the next ten years gets thoroughly imbued with the idea of giving value for money or rewards received the business world won't be worried as much by the next period of depression and the chances are that the people of the next generation will find a happier proposition.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS.

MISSISSIPPI electors will vote on two constitutional amendments in the general election in November of this year. These two amendments have to do with what are known as the Mortmain statutes. These statutes now prohibit bequests being made in the wills of deceased persons to a church, religious society or church supported institution. The State Mortmain Committee, of which Judge O. B. Taylor of Jackson, is the director, has issued a 4-page folder entitled "The Mortmain Laws of Mississippi." This folder consists of a series of question and answers on the Mortmain Statutes, and the amendments to be voted on by the electorate. Judge Taylor says that he will be glad to mail one of these folders to anyone interested if they will drop him card or letter.

WE'LL SAY, "WHAT KIND?"

WHAT kind of race would we have if the minds of men and women demanded food with the same insistence that the stomach does? Suppose your brain, if neglected and forgotten for a day, would set up the same insistent clamor for sustenance that your appetite does. Would you know more, or do you, maybe, take care of the normal craving that visits intelligent minds and see that you provide a diet for the thinking machine?

Truth is supposed to be the goal of education and philosophy, and religion, as well. The truth will "set you free." How many of us realize that the best pursuit of truth comes only when a mind is free of passions, prejudices and popular superstitions? How many of us make any systematic effort to remove these cobwebs from our brains?

"ON THE BORDER OF IDIOCY."

WITH the United States spending millions of dollars to build warships, the people of this country should remember that the United States scrapped some 928,000 tons of ships built and building as a result of the Washington and London Naval Treaties.

When it is borne in mind that today we are building, or about to build, eight battleships and that none of those now in the Navy were built after 1922, it is apparent that the so-called disarmament treaties were a flop which cost the United States hundreds of millions of dollars.

In fact, we are inclined to agree with Rear Admiral Clark Howell Woodward, commandant, the Third Naval District, who recently declared that our idea of disarmament was "an unshared idealism on the border of idiocy."

MISSISSIPPI BAR ASSOCIATION.

THE 1939 annual session of the Mississippi Bar Association will be held in Biloxi on June 22 and 23. The Junior Bar Association will convene one day prior to the Senior bar association, June 21. R. M. Kelly, of Vicksburg, is president of the association, and John C. Satterfield, of Jackson, is chairman of the junior section. Mrs. Alice Nevils, of Jackson, is secretary of the bar association.

LEGISLATIVE CANDIDATES.

THE Attorney General has held that candidates for the House of Representatives and the State Senate must file an affidavit of candidacy under the "Corrupt Practices Act" with the Secretary of State and the Clerk of the Circuit Court of the county that elects the candidate. In case no contributions are received, there would be no reason to file a contribution affidavit for that period.

During the past six months Mississippi has received $64,746.00 worth of free publicity in newspapers and magazines throughout the nation as a resort and vacation center. This free publicity increased during the six months mentioned over the same period in 1937-38 by 494 per cent.

According to information received from Washington The National Park Service will investigate the advisability of providing a recreational and National park development on the Natchez Trace route in Attala, Leake, and Madison counties. Boards of Supervisors of the three counties made a plea for such development at a recent meeting held at Canton.

LOCAL REALTY VALUES ADVANCING.

WITHIN the past few weeks an unusual number of realty transfers have been recorded more possibly over a like period than for a long time. However, the number has not been so interesting as the values indicated. There is a noted increase. This, naturally, is created by the demand which is constant. Bay St. Louis' newest commercial center, Ulman avenue, and it is no small nor inconsequential one, has taken rapid strides in the past year. A new section of the city has developed and its expansion is rapid and substantial.

Important sales have been taken place on this new vista of business trek. A sale of land at $50.00 per front foot warrants taking notice. It cannot be overlooked by those who have the better and bigger interest of Bay St. Louis to heart. Another sale in the same vicinity is on the tapis as this is written—a 100-foot strip for $5,000.

Bay St. Louis is not on the boom. We do not like the term. It spells eventual disaster. Our city is steadily advancing in commercial and residential values and a healthy and substantial growth is manifested on every side.

Local banks, in recently published statements in this newspaper, well indicate the trend of things factual and substantial. There can be no mistake about figures. They have an unquestionable way of telling the truth.

We congratulate the buyers on their new acquisitions—values that will hold and increase.

GRADUATION AND INVITATIONS.

OVER the country the mail service is carrying commencement invitations, addressed to friends and close acquaintances. There are many, but nonetheless in the volume none loses its importance and individuality.

The recipient of such gesture from the boy and girl who has accomplished the long period of years prescribed for study, is honored and no matter how many he or she may receive each one carries a message. It tells of years of study, a routine that has been long and exacting, of diligence and attendance. In that time to the young there have been many vicissitudes, many obstacles encountered and possibly many discouraging aspects that had to be overcome. It meant strength to endure, faith to persevere and hope to accomplish.

But it was worth it. And the teacher, too, so frequently underpaid, is to be commended. But the real teacher does not work solely for pay in money. The love of labor is the real incentive and in this spirit the successful teacher reaps much of his or her pay.

Here's to the graduate. The Echo salutes you on the occasion of your arrival. Ambition realized.

However, older heads will say, but this is only the beginning of life. The first step forward. True, but with all that graduation means the boy or girl is now well qualified and fortified to make this first step. Best wishes and a helping hand. The youth of today is the adult of tomorrow in life's furrows. A kind word, a helping hand and your influence for assistance will mean much. It is all in the start. How much help will you give?

CANDIDATES AND NEWSPAPERS.

NEWSPAPERS over the State of Mississippi reaching The Echo are carrying long lists of candidates announcements. The number is now rapidly increasing and a number of county papers are carrying from one to two columns of such announcements.

There are two direct reasons for this acceleration of advertisements. Candidates are realizing the time between now and August 8, date of first primary, is comparatively short, and there is no time to lose for thorough and lasting publicity.

Secondly, a candidate must have plenty of publicity and of the right kind. It costs no more to announce in the newspaper now than it will later. The fee paid now will take care of the candidate thru to the second primary.

That newspaper publicity is the best kind there is no successful challenging this statement.

The fact that a candidate has told a number of his acquaintances that he is out for office is not sufficient. Newspaper advertising creates confidence and establishes a certain prestige for the candidate who identifies himself with such potent agency of information and publicity. If he fails to proclaim his candidacy high and wide it denotes weakness and apprehension.

Why not let The Echo carry your announcement now?

GAS SERVICE ENHANCING VALUES.

A LOCAL realtor tells us that the present impetus to real estate values always regulated by demand, is due to several conditions that have arisen, but none the least of these is the advent of natural gas service for our city.

This, in a measure, is the greatest of accelerators for value and progress and the aforesaid realtor says this value cannot be overestimated as to how it will effect the immediate future.

Bay St. Louis will now be on equal footing with other sections of the coast where the gas service exists. It is well known many a prospective resident abandoned the idea of residing here when the existence of gas service was lacking and that only across the bay other cities supplied this domestic advantage. It was severe competition but had to be borne and nothing seemed possible to remedy the situation. However, now in the front line with other nearby sections, and our close proximity to New Orleans, an advantage not overlooked by commuters, we are about to come into our own.

Realty values are based on many things and this new gas service, placed over the entire city, no remote part overlooked, he it said to the credit of the city, is going to play a potential part in the future upbuilding of this section.

MISSISSIPPI WON.

MISSISSIPPI Legionnaires have won for the third consecutive time in their membership drive to permit Mississippi to lead the National Legion Parade at the National Legion Convention in Chicago. Our heartiest congratulations to the Mississippi Legion.

Hollywood Notes.

NELSON EDDY finishes work in "Balalaika," he and Jeanette MacDonald are scheduled to appear in a medieval story by Eugene Heltai entitled "Silent Knight."

Booth Tarkington's "Seventeen," which was filmed as a silent picture several years ago, is to be remade within a few weeks with Jacky Cooper and Betty Fields in the leading roles. Miss Field came to Hollywood from the Broadway success "What a Life."

Sixteen years ago Lon Chaney created the role of the hunchback of "The Hunchback of Notre Dame." Today his son is being tested for the same role in a remake of the picture and will probably get the part.

The Weaver brothers and Elvira have been signed for a musical picture by Republic.

"The Skipper of Ispahan," which was originally purchased for Errol Flynn but was shelved because of his crowded program, has been dusted off and will serve as a screen vehicle for George Brent. It is the story of a disgraced officer of the merchant marine who becomes a skipper of a small trading vessel in the China Sea.

Pauline Goddard will play the lead in "Titanic." She is now playing in "The Cat and the Canary" and has an assignment in "The Dictator" to finish before she begins "Titanic."

Joel McCrea, Ann Sheridan, and Fred MacMurray will head the cast in "Career Man." Jeffrey Lynn and Lya Lys will appear in supporting roles.

Metro has acquired screen rights to Erich Maria Remarque's forthcoming novel, "Heroes." Mr. Remarque is the author of "All Quiet on the Western Front."

W. S. Van Dyke is considered the speed director of Hollywood. A class A picture usually takes from thirty to forty-five days to shoot but Mr. Van Dyke recently finished a Claudette Colbert-James Stewart feature in nineteen days.

The seventh of the series of Hardy pictures is now in production and he has been assigned to direct it.

Lya Lys seems to be getting along. She will appear in the anti-Nazi picture, "Career Man," as a sort of glamor girl spy. She is also slated for a part with Paul Muni in "Beethoven" and with Errol Flynn in "Adventures of Don Juan."

In "The Women" Norma Shearer has twenty-one changes of costume while Rosalind Russell has only nine. In the stage play the part played by Miss Russell called for a more fashionably dressed woman than that of Miss Shearer.

George Brent was born with a Roman nose and only made good in the pictures after he had it operated upon.

On May Robson's seventy-fifth birthday she was honored with a luncheon on the large Warner Bros. sound stage. She was presented with a diamond ring and also with a film depicting the high lights of her screen career.

Bert Wheeler and Marie Wilson seem to be doing so well in their current comedy "Light Horse Harry" that the studio is planning additional pictures in which they can work as a team.

Four important pictures on the Paramount schedule have been completed. They are "Beau Geste," starring Gary Cooper, Ray Milland and Ray Preston; "What a Life," with Jackie Cooper and Betty Field, and two Charles Laughton pictures, "London After Dark" with Vivien Leigh, and "Jamaica Inn" from Daphne Du Maurier's novel.

On April 23rd, Shirley Temple celebrated her tenth birthday. She started in the movies at the age of four, or was it three?

The studio expects to spend two million dollars on "The Rains Came." A good part of it will go into reproducing an earthquake and a flood.

MORE FOR NEWSPAPER

From Washington comes the announcement that the public relations department of the Federal Land Bank Board reported that more savings building and loan associations had set aside special newspaper advertising and business promotional funds this year than ever before.

New Dealers turn to cry "President must run again" as the sole hope of preserving policies.

BAY HIGH SCHOOL HOLDS ANNUAL MAY QUEEN CORONATION

Marion Chapman Crowned Queen by David McDonald as King—Vivian Evans Maid of Honor.

Bay High School large gymnasium was crowded to capacity Friday evening with a large and appreciative audience to witness the annual May festival and coronation of the queen of the month. Miss Marion Chapman daughter of Mrs. Gladys Chapman and the late Will Chapman, was queen. The king was David McDonald, a senior, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. McDonald, both principal personalities, residents of Bay St. Louis.

Creative minds and the efforts of artisans had transformed the stage to represent the porch of an old Southern Mansion, with high colonial columns. Doors and windows were represented and from within, though arched portals and windows, a lighted interior was simulated.

On the porch, profusely and tastefully decorated were seated the king and queen and their royal entourage. The animated picture was striking and effective and not only drew applause but sustained praise after the evening's festivities had come to an end with the ball.

Two little heralds, Gary Gilmore and Jerry Felkins, announced the arrival of the court, when behind them followed ten little flower girls in beautiful costumes, namely Joy Dufham Morgan, Margalo Damborino, Jane Keen, Virginia Seal, Mary January, Bettye M. Kirkpatrick, Joycelan von Ehren, Elsie Smith, Mary Lee Weston and Betty Lee Mitchell. The dukes entered and each awaited his maid. Dukes were C. C. McDonald, Robert Pollard, Milton Phillips, Jack Baxter, Bertrand Capdene, Theodore Thomas J. C. Baxter, Preston LeBreton, Jesse Lafontaine, Chas. Campbell, Bea Miller, Anthony Tonticosa, Lando Goldman, Kenneth Boucoir, Elliot Coward Leo Seal, Harold Arnold, Mark Solomon, Steele Ansley, Howell Russ and Julian Whigham. Dukes of honor were Leo Schindler, Emile J. Gex, Donald Nelson and Walter J. Phillips.

The maids, in old-fashioned dresses of summery materials in pastel shades, and each carrying a small old-fashioned bouquet, entered and met their dukes. The maids were Dorothy Arendale, Aubrey Toca, Mary Maurigi, Gertrude Monti, Ruth Sanford, Carrie Lynn Nolan, Jane Potts, Mary Virginia Terry, Rose Ann Moore, Mary Kittrell, Martha Chapman, Thelma Telhard, Rita Benigno, Lillian Olson, Eddie Hill, Rena Nelson, Ann Ingram and Lucy Weston. Maids of honor were Mildred Otis, Pauline Givens, Josie Rita Olson, Lillian Sick, Bertie Dubousson and Ella Favre. Pages were Irgin Kingston, Truman Schultz, John Blanchard, Leon Kirkpatrick, Carlton Howze and B. Kirkpatrick. The crown bearer, Jimmie Gilmore.

Preceding the maid of honor, Miss Alice Vivian Evans, who was pretty in blue, were two flower girls, in white dresses! Gaynel Gex and Joy Starita, and then came the queen, Miss Marion Chapman, in a white dress in bouffant style, with blue mantles studded with pink and white rosebuds and carrying an old fashioned bouquet of pink roses. Upon reaching the king's side, she was crowned Queen of the May by David McDonald, with a crown of pink roses.

Music was furnished by Mrs. J. B. Goldman, Mrs. Roland Weston, Miss Jennie di Benedetto and Rene de Montluzin, Jr.

The crowning and grand march were followed by dancing with music furnished by the Blue Melody Band of Bay St. Louis.

The affair was crowned with success from every angle. Courtesies extended The Echo for this occasion are thankfully acknowledged and with appreciation.

'WINGS OF THE NAVY' ACTION-FILLED DRAMA OF U. S. NAVAL FORCE

Warner Bros.-Cosmopolitan Production at A. & G. Theater Sunday-Mon.

"Wings of the Navy," a Warner Bros.-Cosmopolitan production which is declared to be by far the best to date of the remarkable succession of smashing successful "service" pictures turned out at that studio, comes to the screen of the A. & G. Theater, Bay St. Louis, Sunday and Monday, with a cast headed by George Brent, Olivia de Havilland, John Payne and Frank McHugh.

As its title so aptly indicates, "Wings of the Navy" is a story laid against a background of naval aviation.

The studio was given the unstinted cooperation of the United States Navy, with the result that there are breath-taking shots of aerial formations and maneuvers which even the newsreel cameramen have never been able to photograph.

The screen play is built around two naval fliers, George Brent and John Payne, who are sons of a pioneer naval flying officer who died in the line of duty. Brent, the elder brother, is an instructor at the navy's school for fliers at Pensacola when Payne, who is an ensign in the submarine service, decides to become a flier too, and gets transferred to Pensacola training school.

Brent has designed a new type of plane which he hopes to get the navy to accept, but before he can pilot it himself in the test flights, he is plunged into a serious accident.

Unknown to his brother, Payne resigns from the service and as a civilian, arranges to make a daring test dive in the plane Brent has invented. When he completes the test of the new ship successfully, and the navy accepts his brother's plane, Payne also wins reinstatement in the naval air service.

Payne's unselfish devotion to the cause of his brother also brings to a happy solution a romantic situation involving Olivia de Havilland which has threatened disintegration between the brothers.

At the outset of the tale, Alivia is Brent's fiancée but when she and Payne meet they fall in love. After Payne has risked his life to prove his brother's new ship practical, Brent unselfishly relinquishes her.

PLANNING TO SELL BEAUVOIR SOLDIER HOME TO GOV'T.

Commander Sons of Confederate Veterans Makes Announcement to That Effect.

Progress is being made in plans to convert the Beauvoir Soldiers' Home on the Mississippi Gulf coast into a government park, Simon H. Rubel of Corinth state commander of the Sons of Confederate Veterans, announced following a meeting of the Beauvoir committee at Aberdeen.

Sons of Confederate veterans believe Beauvoir can be sold to the government for park purposes, he said. Beauvoir has been used for years as a home for Confederate veterans and their widows and has ended its usefulness for that purpose, according to the state commander.

Members attending the meeting of the Beauvoir committee in addition to State Commander Rubel were J. O. Prude, Jr., of Aberdeen, Mark T. Bynum of Jackson, Ben MacFarland of Aberdeen, Walter L. Hokies of Richmond, Va., Dr. T. B. Birdsong of Clarksdale, the Rev. Marshall Wingfield and Tom Collier, both of Memphis; Colonel E. N. Scudder and Dr. W. H. Scudder, both of Mayersville; R. A. Pullen of Aberdeen, Colonel Frank Wortham of Corinth; Dr. E. H. Lewis of Durant and Fenton H. Kimbrough of Biloxi.

Sons of Confederate veterans' reunion will be held at Biloxi on June 24, at which time action for the sale of the property will be taken, Rubel said. The Beauvoir committee will report on progress of negotiations with the government at the reunion.

ON CHICKEN STEALING.

week you've been up. What's it this was in session. The court room was like a furnace even with all the windows open. Crickets sang outside and moths flew about the lights. The judge was irritated and everyone was impatient, that is, everyone but Old Jim. Nothing seemed to irritate him. The perspiration streamed down his wrinkled, black face, but he just sat and grinned and made everybody angrier.

"Next case!" cried the judge, and the black culprit was dragged to the stand.

"Jim" exclaimed the judge. "I can't believe it. Second time this week you've been up. What's it this time?"

"Caught him stealin' chickens in Mr. Ladner's back yard," reported the policeman.

"Jim, don't you . . ." began the judge.

Aw, now Judge, suh, you know Ah wouldn't do no such thing.

It was this way, suh, Ah was jest walkin' down the street, passin' Mistuh Ladner's back yard, when Ah happ'n to look in kinda, an' Ah seed a man ketchin' one of dem fine chickens, like so, Ah says to mahself, 'Aide says, 'Now, Jim, Mistuh Ladner's a frien of yo's. Is you gwine let dat man git away wif one of dem fine chickens? No suh, Ah says, 'you ain't! So right off Ah climbs da fence, da fence yeh, Ah fogot to say dat Ah seed da man through a hole in da fence, dat's how Ah seed him. And den Ah—Jim

"interrupted the judge," why were you looking into Mr. Ladner's yard through a hole in the fence?"

"Wall, naw, Jim hesitated, "waa! naw Mistah Ladner's a frien" of mine and I was jest makin sho dat everything was awright, thas what Ah was doing, 'jest makin sho dat everything was awright. So a seed dis man an' Ah climbs da fence to stop 'im. Ah sneaks up, kinda soft like, and—

"Are you sure the man didn't hear you climbing the fence?" questioned the judge.

"No, suh, Ol Jim too shy fo dat bughlugh man. Ah jest creep up kinda soft like an' jumps on 'im, but da man got himself loose and run lak a streak o' lightning. Hol' he sho was funny lookin'! Waa! Ah picks up da bag, fixin' to brang it in to Mistuh Ladner, when long comes dis heah p'liceman an' cuses me of stealin' mah frien's chickens. Now Ah asks yuh, suh, is dat justice?"

The judge leaned back in his chair with a sigh. "Jim he said 'I don't know what to do with you. Three days ago I let you go because you said you had rheumatism too bad to have stolen a crate of oranges from the freight car, even though you answered the witness's description. Now you tell me you climbed a fence and attacked a thief. Jim, are you sure you didn't 'brow' the key from Mr. Ladner's cook and walk thru the gate and take that chicken?"

"Co'se not," said Jim, looking at the floor.

"Jim, look at me."

"Yassah."

"This way Jim."

Jim looked. "Aw, Mistuh Judge suh, twas jest a 'il chicken, he whined.

"Jest do skinnest, poorest lookin chicken Ah evah seed. Why dat chicken ain't no bigga den a bird. Look heah! Jim extracted a chicken dropping the bag on the floor.

"Hm, it is rather small," commented the judge. "Let's see the other one."

"Suh?"

"The other chicken, Jim."

"Taint no other chicken, Mistuh Judge."

"Sergeant," said the judge motioning toward the bag. The Sergeant stepped forward and brought forth a large rooster from the folds of the sack, displaying it to the judge, who said, "Ladner's blue ribbon rooster, Hm!"

"War dat critter come from? Ah ain't nevah seed it befo; so help me," swore Jim.

"Jim, why don't you tell the truth inquired the judge."

"Aw, Mistuh Judge, suh, it was dawd, Ah couldn't see what Ah was grabbin' at."

"Five days!" said the judge. Jim turned away, murmuring, "Always pickin on poah niggaah what ain't done nothin'. Can't even sleep in peace, can't even—"

"Next case," called the judge.

RAY HAPES, NEW COACH FOR BAY HI IS A SENSATION

Called the "California Comet"—Has Quite A Record—Fine Personality.

(Special to The Sea Coast Echo)

University Miss., May 18—Bay St. Louis probably doesn't know this statement to be a fact, but it's quite near the truth to say that S. J. Ingram has named the best running back the South has produced in years to coach at the Gulfport town's high school football team.

Ray Hapes the original "California Comet" as far as this section of Dixie is concerned, began to pattern his gridiron antics while in prep school at Garden Grove, California, some seven years ago, and the swathe he cut in scholastic grid circles as an all-Southern California halfback was but a step, as the figures will warrant, to the high-flying gridiron roaming produced during his playing days at Johnny Reb griddle—from 1935 through 1937.

Clarence Hapes, huge 240 pound tackle and fullback, was first of the clan to enroll at Ole Miss. He played first in 1934. Ray followed, and now, to complete one side of the story, the Rebels have in the fold the third Hapes in Merle, who bids fair to outshine either of his two elder brothers.

Merle can punt and pass extremely well, and Ray couldn't, which was something of a handicap as far as his running was concerned, for the opposition could concentrate on halting his ground maneuvers.

Regardless, Merle will have to come through in a hurry to get in the same class with Ray as a ground speedster, as the accompanying figures will show.

In 12 games as a sophomore, in '35, "Rambling Ray" picked up some 1600 or more yards from scrimmage in around 145 attempts with the leather. The average per lick was slightly over 11 yards per lick, or better than a first down each time he stepped.

Ray, packing but 165 pounds, grabbed five punts to score from back of his own ten yard line a like number of times, with the jaunts approximating an average of 94 yards per return.

Including the five punt returns mentioned, Ray carried 12 boots back from behind his own 30-yard line, and had 15 that went for more than 50. It might be truthful to mention that several of the jaunts came in the form of kickoff returns, but, too, that his returning of spirals averaged just short of 27 yards per try, and his returning of kick-offs came to 40 yards on the average.

"Little Hapes" as he was called then, scored 73 points to lead the Southeastern conference in such a parade, and made several all-conference teams, even though a sophomore.

Ray started his junior year off with a bang, darting through a Union U. clan of 96 yards and a touchdown in the season's first game in '36, and following suit two weeks later against Temple in Philadelphia.

The first of two twisted ankles interrupted his progress, but failed to stop three 70-yard scoring runs during the middle of the campaign.

In '37, his final season, he scored seven touchdowns in jaunts that stretched from 103 yards on a pass interception—the longest run of the year—to one of 40 in length from scrimmage. Three others were turned in that exceeded 25 yards in distance.

The second Hapes had a way of coming through when things were going bad as is illustrated here: Ole Miss was behind in the traditional game with Mississippi State, behind 9 to 0, when, in the final period, Ray picked up a State punt on his own 30—a punt thought downed by a Maroon—and darted the remaining 70 yards for the Rebs' lone touchdown.

Later, he sparked a drive of some 60 yards to the Maroon 12, and saw a teammate throw a pass wildly, and an interception kill Red and Blue chances for a win.

Ray was a carefully watched ball carrier during his college career, but despite that fact he piled up an amazing total in averages, and in number of long scoring runs.

His speed was phenomenal in a football uniform; on the cinders it was of 9.8 seconds caliber.

And as for his ability in a broken field, well—he wasn't called "Rambling Ray" for naught.

Ray has been well grounded in fundamentals knows his football well and will make Bay St. Louis high school a competent coach. It's a cinch, too, that he's one of the most colorful young tutors in the business.

Personal and GeneralS. S. C. COLLEGE PROF OUTSTANDING SOCIAL SUCCESS.

Not only one of the most enjoyable but perhaps the most elaborate affair of its kind yet given, was the college prom given Wednesday evening by the Junior-Senior Class of St. Stanislaus.

For this occasion the gym exterior had been decorated in a manner never yet attempted. Bands of crepe paper, aquamarine blue and white, formed a canopy of fancy outline and from the outer edges carried down to a point near the floor. This original idea was that of a group of students and to gain an idea of the work involved it required the services of twelve students and two days time. The work had all the earmarks of professional decoration and the general get-up and effect warranted the expressions of admiration. The orchestra was the best money could buy for such occasion. Augustin Quintero was chairman of the committee on decoration.

"Imperial Aces," nine-piece orchestra from Thibodaux, La., discoursed the entrancing music until the midnight hour, when the strains of "Home, Sweet Home" drifted out on the sea breezes as wafted from the gulf afar. The "Aces" were well worthy of name. After the affair the members returned their homes on famed Bayou Lafourche. John Robichaux, resident of that place, and college student, was responsible for procuring the band.

Joseph Folse was chairman of the refreshment committee, aided by the capable office of members of the Mothers' Club, of which Mrs. E. C. Carrere is president. Refreshments were served at tables set around the ball room, in nite club arrangement. Here it was possible to have a tete-a-tete while munching on one of the delicious sandwiches of which there were several kinds and sipping from a bottle of soft drink between the sayings born of dreamy thoughts of the romantic night.

Robert Harless was general chairman of the prom while David Assaf, editor of the Back-A-Chay, was master of ceremonies. And was he good? One of the best. He announced every dance, each dedicated to some member of the fair sex present.

This, too, was perhaps, the largest-attended prom yet given. The guests were not only from Bay St. Louis and vicinity but from along the Coast and New Orleans. The lady scribe says the display of pretty summery clothes in latest style and model was in keeping with the good-looking dressing of the collegians.

A number of older guests were present, and enjoyed the beautiful spectacle and the lovely success of the prom.

Bro. Alexis, vice president, Bro. Anselm and others gave their presence to the affair from time to time during the evening.

ALICE VIVIAN EVANS AND DAVID McDONALD GIVE CLASS BARBEQUE SUPPER.

Of the number of parties given for Bay High School graduates none was more enjoyable than the barbecue supper given Sunday night by Miss Alice Vivian Evans, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. James A. Evans and David McDonald son of Mr. and Mrs. C. McDonald. The barbecue pit of Mr. John McDonald was used and the lovely yard of the premises (Dr. C. M. Ship's place of residence) formed a lovely setting. The affair, needless to say, was most enjoyable, participated in by the large number of Class '39 and will ever remain memorable.

Mrs. James A. Evans and Mrs. C. McDonald were hostesses and attended to the details and arrangement and assisted in receiving the guests. A feature of the evening was the enjoyment of a number of games that delight the youth.

VACATIONISTS BRING MONEY but what brings vacationists?

a sure answer—

CONCRETE ROADS

No matter what they like when they get there, vacationists never enjoy "roughing it" on the way. Of two attractive vacation centers, tourists choose the one that's on their favorite kind of road—concrete.

Everybody profits—directly or indirectly—from tourist trade. And everybody profits directly from concrete.

Concrete highways are always ready for travel. They cost less than other pavements of equal load-strength. Save a big share of road maintenance funds. Save on car operating costs. Reap these benefits—pave with concrete.
